Consider the auction database that we have been using so far in the previous assignments. In this deliverable, you will generate a “prototype” draft report.

Your report will include a sketch of prototype screen shots. You may include rough drawing sketches of how your entire prototype will look like. Additionally, include a working “dummy” application using GUI generating tools such as Java Swing. Submit screen shots of the “dummy” application as well.

Submission: Submit your draft report on d2l.mu.edu.
